Principal’s Report

Contacting The School
At the start of week 6 I returned to school after 5 weeks leave. It was a great break and very energizing with lots of tasks completed and the very early stages of a new home being built for my family. I’d like to thank Mrs Moore, Mrs Maslen and Mr Flannery for relieving in various positions for me over the last couple of months. I look forward to getting back into the role of principal after 7 weeks of freedom from bells and class changes.

One of the things that was very apparent to me upon getting back into my office and getting around talking to staff were the number incidences where different people spoke to me about some aspect of the school. What caught my attention was the number of times an assumption had been made by a parent, teacher or student that the school was aware of something or other and that important decisions were being made on the basis of incorrect information.

I’d like to start my time back at school in the same manner in which I aim to continue. If any parent has something that they are concerned about can I please ask you to contact the school. You’re welcome to ring for an appointment, call on the phone or even drop in without notice. While an appointment is preferable, I will always try to see a parent straight away, no matter what the circumstances.

Mr Trevor Hodges
Principal

Deputy Principal’s Report

Today we welcome Mr Hodges back after his leave and I return to my substantive position in the school as Head Teacher Secondary Studies / Careers but I will take this opportunity to thank all staff, students and parents who made the last 5 weeks as smooth and enjoyable as they were. Ms Moore is a very accomplished school leader and Mr Flannery demonstrated how well he can step into an executive role.

I am also very excited to be able to announce today that the first of our Year 12 students have been offered university places for 2016. Michael has been offered a place in the Bachelor of Education (Secondary Science) at the University of New England, while Brendan has been offered a place in either the Bachelor of Criminology or the Bachelor of Business, also at U.N.E. Congratulations to both boys, your achievements are testament to younger students that a serious effort and a good attitude to your education will pay off. I am so proud of both of you! Our students who applied for early entry to Southern Cross and/or Griffith should hear from these universities very soon.

Five of our Year 11 students recently spent a day at Southern Cross University hearing about course options available at the 3 S.C.U. campuses in 2017. The general feeling at the end of the day was that it had been very worthwhile in providing information about the possibilities open to them at this time next year.

Year 10 students have now chosen their subjects for Year 11/12 and I am developing a School-to-Work plan for each of them so that we keep track of their individual pathway to the H.S.C. and beyond. One of the big advantages of being at a small school like ours is the individual attention we can give each and every one of our students, making sure they make informed choices about their study patterns and setting them up well for post-school life. I look forward to this group of students stepping up to become part of our senior school in 2016.

Taylah and Layton led in the school class while Jacob and Kyle led in the Opens. Zac, Justin, and Jack also helped with washing and looking after the steers throughout the day. A big thank you to Chris Whitney for transporting the steers, and giving his expert advice to the students. Congratulations to the Ag Team, the whole school is proud of their efforts.

Years 7/8 Chinese Cooking
Last Thursday, Years 7 and 8 had the opportunity to experience some methods of Chinese cooking, along with tasting their creations! Both classes prepared Pork Skewers served with Chilli and Soy Sauce on Pak Choy (a bit like baby spinach) and Chinese fried rice with oyster sauce. Both dishes were a big hit and all students worked together to make their creations and tidy up afterwards. It was a great experience for all.

Whooping cough information for schools

There is an outbreak of whooping cough (pertussis) in NSW, mainly affecting school-aged children.

Coughing spreads the infection to others nearby. Whooping cough can spread to anyone at home, including younger brothers and sisters. Whooping cough can be especially dangerous for babies.

Whooping cough starts like a cold and progresses to bouts of coughing that can last for many weeks. The infection can occur even in fully-vaccinated children. Older children may just have a cough that is persistent and may be worse at night.

- Children with these symptoms should see a doctor.
- If your doctor diagnoses whooping cough in your school-aged child, please let the school know and keep your child at home until they have taken 5 days of antibiotics. Keep coughing children away from babies.
- Whooping cough vaccines give good protection against infection but immunity fades with time. Check that all your children are up to date with their vaccines, due at 6 weeks, 4 months, 6 months, 4 years and 12 years of age (offered to all Year 7 students through the NSW school-based vaccination program).
- A booster is also recommended at 18 months of age.

A booster dose of vaccine is also recommended for adults that are in contact with young children, such as school staff and parents.

Pregnant women are recommended to have a booster dose during each pregnancy and this is funded by NSW Health. Those who are new parents or carers of babies should consult their general practitioner about appropriate immunisation.

Your local public health unit can provide advice about whooping cough on 1300 066 055 or visit the NSW Health website for information for childcare and schools about whooping cough.

Head Lice

Cases of head lice have been detected at school. Anyone can get head lice mainly through direct head-to-head contact but also from sharing hats, brushes and other personal items. Head lice are a problem in many communities and do not reflect poor hygiene or social status.

Please do your part to prevent the spread of this condition by checking your child(ren) daily for the next few weeks, and on a regular basis thereafter. Examine your child’s head. Start examining the head by beginning around the ears and at the nape of the neck and then the rest of the head. If your child does have lice, begin treatment. Lice infestation is much easier to treat if caught early. There are two treatment options for head lice: Chemical over-the-counter products and Mechanical removal/combing.
A recommended treatment plan and information sheet has been attached. Further information on head lice is available on the Department’s website at http://www.schools.nsw.edu.au/studentsupport/studenthealth/conditions/headlice/index.php

If you have any questions or need assistance, please contact the school on 02 66651205.

I appreciate your assistance in this regard,

There are two treatment options for head lice:

1. Mechanical removal (removal with a head lice comb)

2. Chemical removal

Mechanical removal

Mechanical removal involves applying normal hair conditioner to dry hair. After covering all of the hair with the conditioner untangle it using a normal comb and separate the hair into sections. Then use a fine long toothed metal lice comb to comb through the hair in sections. The conditioner doesn’t kill the lice but it stuns them for about 20 minutes making it easier to remove them. The lice comb will remove nits (eggs) and the stunned lice. Wipe the comb on a white tissue and check for any lice or nits. Keep combing until no more appear on the tissue. This method should be used every second day until none remain (usually about 7 to 10 days).

This method is the preferred way to treat head lice because it is effective, does not contribute to insecticide resistance in head lice and also has a low risk of skin irritation.

The mechanical removal method also helps manage head lice before they become established on the head. Keep a good head lice comb in the shower and every time your family washes their hair comb through with the lice comb. This makes sure the lice are caught before they lay too many eggs.

If your children are old enough to wash their own hair encourage them to use the comb themselves. Or keep the comb handy to where you wash your children’s hair and use it every time you wash their hair.

Chemical removal

If you choose to use a chemical treatment, remember to follow the instructions carefully. Don’t be tempted to re-apply the same chemical treatment if it doesn’t appear to be working. Instead change to another treatment that uses a different chemical compound or use the comb and conditioner method. You must repeat the treatment in 7 days to kill any newly hatched eggs. You will also need to use a lice comb to make sure the treatment is working. If you find dead lice the product has worked. If you find live lice, the treatment has not worked.

When your child is free of lice and nits, remember to check regularly with a fine toothed lice comb and conditioner. Early detection and treatment will prevent re-infestation of family members and classmates.

What to do about bedding and clothing

Research suggests that bed linen, hats, clothing and furniture do not harbour or transmit lice or nits and that there is no benefit in washing them as a treatment option. Nits and lice only live on the human head. They quickly dehydrate and die if removed from the head.
